- II. Marks are indicated against each question.
- III. Strictly adhere to the word limit given with each question. Marks will be deducted for exceeding the word limit.

SECTION-A (READING) 15 Marks

Q. 1 Read the following passage carefully.

7 Marks

1. When life began on earth, animals roamed freely about the planet, without any danger of being captured or kept away from their habitat. Nature had made the animals in such a way that except for evolution, no other process could change their real identity, their original characteristics and their habitat. But today human beings, it seems, have forgotten that they themselves evolved from animals. They feel that by giving them brains, God has given them the authority to exploit nature as they wish.

2. When a small child is introduced to the word “wild life”, he has given an image that wild life is confined to the remote jungles where these animals live in harmony with the beauties of nature-the trees, the flowers, the climate and other organisms they can be at any place they wish, eat as they want and behave as they desire. Ironically, the above mentioned requirements are perhaps those ones for which the whole human world has been fighting even till now. This is the story of all major revolutions around the world.

3. The main aim was to gain liberty-of behavior, of speech, of thought, of everything. If we ourselves can not bear someone else ruling over us, if every human slave strives for independence, then how can we give such treatment to animals?

1.1. Read the questions below and choose the option you consider the most appropriate. Write your answers in your answer sheet 1x5 = 5

1. When life began on earth who roamed freely about the planet?

(a) Birds

(b) Animals

(c) Humans

(d) Reptiles

2. Who evolved from animals?

- (a) Humans                      (b) Birds                                      (c) Animals                                      (d) None of them

3. Animals too should be given –

- (a) Liberty                      (b) Food                                      (c) Space                                      (d) Nothing

4. Should we make animals our slaves?

- (a) Yes                      (b) No                                      (c) Sometimes                                      (d) Always

5. What is a small child's impression of wild life?

(a) Remote jungles and forests where animals live in harmony

(b) Just remote jungles with no animals.

(c) Animals kept in cages.

(d) None of the above

1.2. Answer the following questions.

1x2= 2

1. Find the opposite of the word "dependence" from the last paragraph of the above passage?

2. Who can change the real identity of animals?

2. Read the following passage carefully.

8 Marks

1. In Orissa thousands of Olive Ridley turtles are caught up in the nets of trawlers doing illegal fishing and are suffocated to death.

In Rajasthan, Gujarat and Madhya Pradesh spiral –tailed lizards are sold in markets as a medicine. Their necks are broken in presence of customers and put into the boiling water. The yellow coloured fat that oozes out is sold at Rs.60 a small bottle. The reptiles are pinned on trees and skinned alive to ensure that the skin remains soft. Frogs are thrown back after their legs have been chopped off (their legs are eaten as a delicacy). Hundreds of animals and birds are mindlessly killed during the annual tribal hunt. Cruelty to animals in spite of a lot of hue and cry about wildlife protection is on the increase.

3. More than 50,000 chemicals used in the manufacturing of cosmetics, are tested on rabbits, pigs, rats, dogs and monkeys etc. About 10 million animals are killed during experimentation. Only the people can save the animals from needless pain and death.
