PREPARE THE NARRATIVE

The snake and the mirror' is a wonderful story written by the famous Malayalam writer Vaikom Mohammed Basheer. It is a story about the lonely life of a doctor. He had just started medical practice and his earnings were very little. He lived in a small rented unelectrified room. The only luxury he had was a black coat. His house was full of rats.

He decided to shave daily and grow a thin moustache to look more handsome. He wished to keep a smile always to look better. A funny thought came to his mind. He was a great admirer of beauty. He wanted to marry a doctor who had plenty of money and a good medical practice. When the doctor was sitting in his chair, a snake landed on his shoulder. He ran out for his life. He went to his friend's home. He felt pain in his left arm where the snake had coiled.

He realized that if the snake bit him, he did not have any medicine in his room. He thought that he was a poor, foolish and stupid doctor.
