Unit 1 Lesson 2 ANY WOMAN by Katherine Tynan

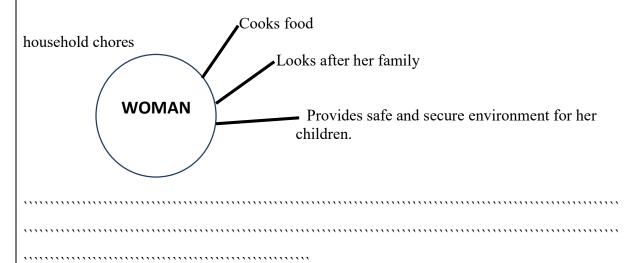

Dear Children.

Look at the picture given below.

What kind of women can you see in the picture? Are they similar or different? Yes, they are different. We can see a mother, a wife, working women, well known women, bold, beautiful and educated women.

There is a woman in your house too. What is the role does that woman play in your family?

Think about the roles they play and try to fill the other branches too.

Do you think a family can survive without a woman?

Of course no. A woman is the foundation upon which a family is built.

ENGLISH

Class: 12

The poem Any Woman by the Irish writer Katherine Tynan also speaks about such a woman. Let's revisit the ideas discussed in the poem.

Main Highlights

- The poem speaks about the importance of woman in a family.
- The woman is compared to the pillars of the house, the keystone of the arch, the roof and walls, without which the house would be ruined.
- She is the fire upon the hearth. Without her, the home would be colder than a stone.
- The children come to her for love and affection.
- She is the light of their love. The children could hardly live without her support.
- She is the one who holds the family together. No child wants to get away from the close-knit family group.
- She is all over the house, from the floor to the roof. Nothing happens without her knowledge.
- She decorates the house and makes the children's bed cosy and warm.
- She also protects the children from all dangers.
- She is the door that guards against all kinds of troubles and problems that come to disturb the inmates.
- At the end of the poem, the woman prays to Jesus to spare her life till her children are properly grown up.
- The main figure of speech used in the poem is Metaphor.

Now, can we have a look at another poem with a similar theme?

'Woman Work' by Maya Angelou

I've got the children to tend
The clothes to mend
The floor to mop
The food to shop

Then the chicken to fry
The baby to dry
I got company to feed
The garden to weed
I've got shirts to press
The tots to dress
The can to be cut
I gotta clean up this hut
Then see about the sick
And the cotton to pick.

Shine on me, sunshine Rain on me, rain Fall softly, dewdrops And cool my brow again.

Class: 12

Storm, blow me from here With your fiercest wind Let me float across the sky 'Til I can rest again.

Fall gently, snowflakes Cover me with white Cold icy kisses and Let me rest tonight.

Sun, rain, curving sky
Mountain, oceans, leaf and stone
Star shine, moon glow
You're all that I can call my own.

The Strength of a Woman

The strength of a woman is the first one to wake up and the last to go to bed.

The strength of a woman is to pretty and doll up all the masks she has to wear in order to survive.

The strength of a woman is crying herself to sleep at night then embracing you in the morning with a hug and a smile.

The strength of a woman is my mother, a woman who says she's okay when you can tell she's in pain, a woman who smiles when the going gets tough and a woman who finds laughter after crying.

The strength of a woman is to raise a child she does not know. The strength of a woman hears a child's cry and knows exactly what they want.

The strength of a woman is courage and independence.

The strength of a woman is doing whatever it takes to survive.

The strength of a woman is the backbone that holds everyone together

... behind every strong man there is a strong woman.

The strength of a woman is her ability to hold her tongue when her significant other is wrong to stop her children from misbehaving with a look in her eye to pick herself up and dust herself off to make her family smile in the midst of a storm to multi-task and adapt to different situations to swallow her pride.

The strength of a woman is her unconditional love for her children and others.

The strength of a woman is to be a peacemaker.

The strength of a woman is to be able to feel things no one else can.

The strength of a woman is to be able.

Problem – Quarrel between a husband and wife about a letter.

Highlights of the story

- Nomita is a beautiful young woman from a poor background who got married
- to Ajit on account of her beauty. Nomita came across her mother's letter in the pocket of Ajit's dirty clothes.
- Ajit hid the letter from her because it contained requests for money.
- Nomita got angry and quarrelled with Ajit.
- Ajit insulted her.
- Nomita set fire to the anchol of her sari.
- Ajit put out the fire.
- Nomita could not win in the quarrel. She had to join the other women in the - kitchen. She suppressed all her feelings and suffered in silence.

Conclusion – Women are like matchboxes. They are powerful, but they always hide their frustration and disappointment out of love for their family.

1. We have seen that Ajit is one of the striking characters in the story 'Matchbox' Let's have a look at his character in detail.

Ajit is an important character in the story 'Matchbox '. He is Nomita's husband. Born in a rich background, he is a person of power and influence in his joint family. Since he married Nomita for her beauty, he doesn't respect her as a person. He feels he has every right to read her letters. He insults her humble background by calling her a dung picker's daughter. Ajit is a proud and dominating husband. He has no respect for women. He doesn't value the personal freedom and privacy of a person.

What are the important aspects of a character sketch?

- Role of the person in the story
- The story in which the character appears
- Relation with other characters
- Attitude to other characters
- General traits

Now analyse the character of Nomita based on the sentences from the story 'Matchbox'.

| A dung-picker's daughter becomes a queen  | Born in a poor family                      |
| She lights a matchstick and touches it to her sari.   | Impulsive and over reactive                |
| Nomita speaks her mind  | Open minded                                |
| Her voice must not tremble. So she too smiles a smile and says in an extremely soft voice.  | Tries to hide her feelings before others   |
| She keeps thinking about how she might be able to secretly send her mother a few rupees.  | Loving and caring                          |

Class: 12

> Children, Let's read an anecdote written by Sudha Murty.

An anecdote is a short amusing or interesting story about a real incident or a person.

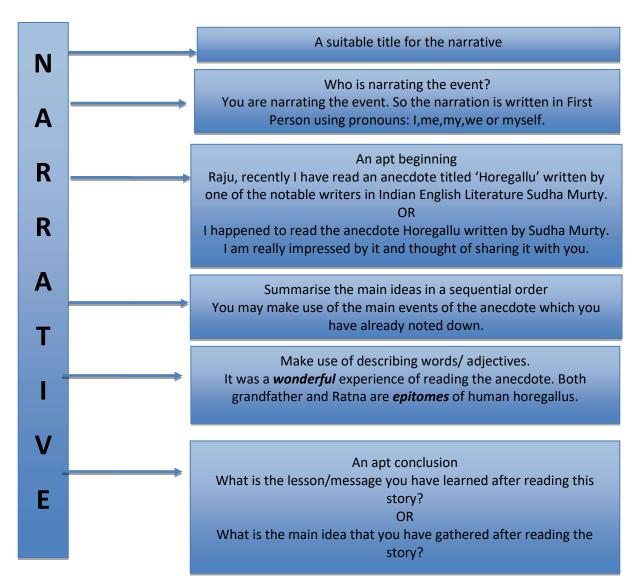

Here Sudha Murthy recollects two incidents from her life. She came across two people who acted as human horegallus and lessened the worries of other people. One is her Grandfather and the other is her colleague Ratna.

| Now, Shall we read the text and find out the author's memories associated with Horegallu? |
|---|
| The special memories are  |
|   |
| How did the Grandfather help the travellers?  |
|   |
| What did Ratna do during lunch hours?   |
|   |
| Can we call Grandfather and Ratna human horegallus? Why?                                  |
| Yes, we can call Grandfather and Ratna human horegallus because they did                  |
| tremendous social service by listening to the problems of others with sympathy and no     |
| judgement.  |
| Children hope you got a clear idea of the anecdote 'Horegallu'.                           |
| Personal Opinion  |
| Are human horegallus essential in a society? Express your views.                          |
| Children in this anadata was have said have Saidle Mantha manufaction                     |

> Children, in this anecdote you have seen how Sudha Murthy narrates her reflection about her Grandfather and her colleague Ratna in an interesting way. Now let's discuss how we can write a good narrative.

Here's the question.

The characters Grandfather and Ratna in the anecdote listen to others' problems and relieve them of their worries. You are impressed by these characters. Imagine you narrate about them to one of your friends. Write the narrative in your own words.

You may write your narration in the space provided.

| Dear, I have come across two human horegallus. They are Sudha Murty's grandfather |
|---|
| and one of her colleagues Ratna. Do you know what a human horegallu is?           |

Class: 12

Self Check

> Shall we check whether we have included all the points in our narrative?

| Did I give a suitable title for the narrative?                             | Yes | No |
|--|-----|----|
| Did I write the narrative in first person?                                 | Yes | No |
| Did I describe the characters and their personality?                       | Yes | No |
| Did I make use of the main events of the anecdote?                         | Yes | No |
| Did I use descriptive language?  | Yes | No |
| Did I leave the reader with a strong feeling or message from the anecdote? | Yes | No |

| Horegallus under the banyan trees are a rare sight nowadays. But we find a lot of Human   |
|---|
| Horegallus like teachers, friends, counsellors, parents, etc. In some circumstances, they |
| might have acted as human horegallus in your life. Narrate one such experience.           |

Auto Driver Returns Lost Valuables A refreshing tale of honesty Special correspondent

20/01/2021

Chennai: An autorickshaw driver from Chennai returned a bag containing gold which was forgotten in his auto to the owner.

Mr Pau Bright, a resident of Lakshmipuram, was returning home after attending his daughter's wedding. Later, he realised that he had lost the bag containing 50 sovereigns. He lodged a complaint at the local police station.

The police scrutinised the CCTV footage and identified the auto driver. As the efforts to trace him were going on, the driver reached Mr. Bright's home on his own to return the bag. A joyous Bright told us that he had never been so happy in his life. He thanked the auto driver with a befitting gift.

The police appreciated the auto driver's action and commented that the country needed more righteous citizens like him.

Let's read more about IrfanAlam.

- IrfanAlam is a young entrepreneur who set up an organization named SammaaN to help cycle rickshaw workers.
- Before the organization was formed many rickshaw pullers rented out vehicles from owners and paid daily rent for them.
- With the efforts of SammaaN, Irfan was able to get loans for the rickshaw pullers to buy their own rickshaws.
- The organisation also helped the rickshaw pullers to increase their profit by offering advertising services in their rickshaws as well as selling products like water, juices, mobile cards etc.
- The profit from sale and advertisements were shared between the rickshaw pullers and the organization.
- The organization also provided training to the pullers and education services for their family in the evening. They were also able to give id cards, uniform, etc. for the pullers.
- Irfan not only helped the pullers to achieve financial stability but also helped them to become an organized sector.
- Irfan believes that the cycle rickshaws are the future of urban transportation as they are very eco-friendly.
- Irfan has been honoured for his entrepreneurship skills in different parts of the world.

Now, let's read the poem Rice written by Chemmanam Chacko' and translated by Prof.Ayyappa Paniker.

Main Highlights

- It is a satire hitting hard at the greed of farmers.
- The poem is filled with scorn and sarcasm.
- The son of a rice farmer goes to North India to do a research on making toys with husk. He works hard for four years, eating chapatti day after day, and finally succeeds in getting a doctorate.
- He has great love for rice. He is a rice eater. For the last 4 years he has been eating chapattis. Now he is craving for rice.
- He returns to his native place. He is in the train and remembers many things related to his place and the people there.
- He remembers his father in the fields below his house. He is wearing a handloom dhoti stained with yellow mud. He is excited about the water of the Varanganal canal.
- He also remembers his little brother carrying the tender saplings to be planted where the ploughing is done.
- On the dyke baskets full of seeds are kept. There is the noise of shouting as the oxen draw the plough in the field.
- But then there is the anti-climax. When the son returns home with his well-earned doctorate on making toys with husk, there is no husk at all in his house or around.
- Farmers had shifted to cash crops, especially rubber, as they found rice cultivation is inconvenient and non- profitable.

ENGLISH

- Class: 12
- The son finds his father watching people setting up a machine for making rubber sheets. All the paddy fields are gone and in their place what he sees are rubber trees and dealwood trees.
- The government gives rice to those who have no paddy fields.
- He sees an aeroplane flying high about the trees. It is going north. The noise of the plane drowns my brother's loud cries. The Chief Minister is flying to the Centre to get more grains. He is flying above the cash crops which are now growing like trees.
- No one promotes the farming of rice here. He asks sarcastically to the Chief Minister to get some husk too.
- The poem presents a contrast between expectations and realities faced by the narrator.

How can we present the contrast between expectations and realities as presented in the poem?

The contrast between two aspects can be brought out using linkers like but, whereas, though, however etc.

QUESTION POOL

1. The father in the poem 'Rice' represents the changing face of Kerala in terms of agricultural practices. Bring out the contrast in his character as depicted in the poem.

Hints: First part of the poem- hard working, sincere, loved nature, preserved his paddy fields, not money minded.

Second part of the poem - lazy, money minded, not interested in paddy cultivation, proud
